

Shamrock Princess Q and A Morgan

What is the most memorable vacation you've taken?

Recently, I went to Las Vegas for the first time with my best friend. It was the ideal and much needed girls weekend. It was everything I thought it would be and so much more. But you know the phrase, "What happens in Vegas, stays in Vegas."

What's the craziest thing you've ever done in your life?

Saw a Groupon for skydiving, bought it and the next morning drove myself to the hanger. It was the first time I had ever done something that spontaneous. I would do it again in a heartbeat but, next time, I am having someone else drive because it literally knocks the wind out of you.

If you could be in the movie of your choice, what movie would you choose and what character would you play?

As a former theatre major, I am obligated to say "Any musical with Meryl Streep."

What's a favorite family memory that has stuck with you?

In May, my grandma, who we called Grandma Toots, passed away at the age of 88. You will hear me talk about her a lot because my favorite times were with her. She was always there for me and our connection was very strong. She gave me many pieces of advice; like when I started dating. She only ever had 2 questions; "Is he Irish? And does he belong to the army of God?" But the memory that has stuck with me the most is being able to be with her in her final days. I was by her bed side until the minute I had to return to Minnesota. When I was saying my tearful goodbye, her last words to me were "I love you." ... Okay, I'm getting teary eyed just writing this.

What hobby would you get into if time and money weren't an issue?

This is simple. I would found my own Children's Theatre Company. I want to give kids the chance to gain confidence to speak in front of large groups at a young age. That's how I started and I want to spread that into a future generation.

What would your warning label say if every person was required to have one?

WARNING: May spontaneously break into song!
